PROFILE

My path to web development has not been a straightforward one. While computers have been a part of my life from a young age I had never tried my hand at programming. The start of the path may have been my college study of Music Business with a focus on Audio Engineering. In the course of my degree I completed an independent study using Pure Data, a graphic programming interface to create a fully software driven effects pedal. At the time, I had no idea I was learning general programming concepts or even what that would have meant. Now that interest has come full circle. Learning web development has given me the opportunity to exercise the logical side of myself as well as employ my creative spirit to solve problems, and to impact and help others.

EXPERIENCE

Nashville Software School Oct. 2018 - Present

Intensive full-time 6-month software development bootcamp anchoring learning with both individual and team-based projects. Tech Stack: Python/ Django; React.js; Javascript; HTML5; CSS3; SQL fundamentals.

Front-End Projects

Welcome to Nashville

- Utilized External API's to gather data about events, restaurants, concerts and parks in the Nashville Area.
- Planned the layout, overall structure, and interface as a group, utilizing user stories.
- Automated workflow with grunt to handle linting, and development servers
- Primary role of handling API interactions with SongKick's API and developing a landing page and navigation system that emulated a single-page layout.

Nutshell

- Created a personal dashboard app utilizing browserify and javascript modules with JSON server to handle a database with join tables for linking user data.
- Primary role within group of creating a fully CRUD capable to-do list.
- Utilized session storage for a consistent user login experience.

ReSpeak

- Used React.js to recreate ReSpeak, personal dictaphone app with full CRUD capability and long term storage of user generated audio files.
- Leveraged React components and Reactstrap to handle authentication layer, single page layout, and modals for a dynamic user experience.
- Used firebase to handle long term storage of user generated sound files.
- Explored the full capability of the React inspector within the context of Chrome dev tools to debug and trouble shoot.
